This Agreement is legally binding and irrevocable for both the University and the Employee with respect to amounts paid to the Employee while the Agreement is in effect. However, either party may terminate this Agreement as of the end of any pay period by giving at least thirty days' written notice. The Agreement will not apply to any amount paid to the Employee after the Agreement is terminated. The Agreement shall at all times be subject to the terms of the Plan.

ANNUAL CONTRIBUTION LIMIT: For 2021, the annual Federal limit for salary reduction contributions to a retirement plan is $19,500. The catch-up contribution limit for employees age 50 and over is $6,500.

The University is only responsible for monitoring the contributions that you make to the University's Plan. You are solely responsible for determining whether the salary reduction contributions that you have made or will make to another employer's retirement plan could cause your total salary reduction contributions for all plans in which you participate to exceed the annual limit. Please review the Plan's summary plan description for more information about the annual limit on salary reduction contributions. You may need to limit the amount of salary reduction contributions that you make to this Plan. If your salary reduction contributions to this Plan and any other plan or plans exceed the annual limit, you can avoid those taxes and penalties by requesting that excess salary reduction contributions be returned to you, as further explained in the summary plan description.
